JACKSONVILLE, FL (December 27, 2022) – Proteus Protective Services, a licensed (FL B-3200553) armed and unarmed security patrol firm, announced today it has expanded its operations from Clay, Duval and St Johns counties into both Orange and Alachua counties.

Proteus' clients include residential apartment management companies, motels, shopping plazas, schools, restaurants, and other commercial establishments. With this new expansion, Proteus has recruited new officers for recently acquired new clients. Chief John Jaeger, the company's General Manager said, "Our goal had been to expand operations in 2023, but we had an opportunity to start early, and it has been a success. We're looking forward to a strong new year."

These new permanent positions will support operations in both the Orlando and Gainesville areas, where officers are providing physical security (armed and unarmed) as well as fire watch services.

Maj. S. Scott Alfassa, the company's Director of Strategic Initiatives added, "Professional security officers are force multipliers in the modern criminal justice system portfolio. As a study a few years ago demonstrated, 'Preventative private policing in public spaces is causally linked to both reductions in prevalence of victims as well as higher counts of offenders detected.'"

Sean Saunders, Proteus' Deputy Chief commented: "Crime has been on the increase in both Orange and Alachua counties. Sometimes it is related to the nation's drug crisis, other times it is gang-related; just last week the news covered several stories relating to criminal violence in Orlando. Businesses are reaching out to security firms to assist with the situation."

Proteus Protective Services is currently welcoming new clients across all counties in Florida. Residential management companies, shopping plazas, schools, restaurants and other commercial establishments who may need armed / unarmed protective services including vehicle patrol, and fire watch services, should contact Proteus at 844.688.1199 or at info@proteusprotective.com.
